

I think that customers having the ability to take their wireless number with them to a new carrier will force companies to pay attention and concentrate on what's most important....customer satisfaction and service. Thank You.